He explained the coordination between the Northeast Texas Regional Planning Group (Region D) and the Region C Regional Planning Group. Tony detailed the sections of the 2021 plan that discuss the Marvin Nichols reservoir. Chapter six covers the impacts of regional water strategies, including Marvin Nichols. Chapter Eight of the plan includes recommendations for unique reservoir sites and policy issues. The Northeast Texas Regional Planning Group has historically and continues to be opposed the inclusion of Marvin Nichols in regional plans or the State Water Plan. Mr. Smith highlights the significant negative impacts on agricultural, natural resources, and the timber industry from the construction of the Marvin Nichols reservoir. He also covers the planning process and the uncertainties involved in the mitigation requirements. Region D has included studies on the impacts of Marvin Nichols in the 2021 plan and anticipates including similar studies in the 2026 plan. Kevin Ward from Region C provides an introduction and explains the water needs in North Texas. He highlighted the rapid population growth in North Texas as contributing to the water needs. Mr. Ward addressed the mitigation requirements and the potential economic impacts. He stated that he understands that balancing the needs of both rural and urban communities is important.

Item 3 – Jim Thompson offered those present a copy of his letter with comments on the Marvin Nichols Reservoir Project Feasibility Review that he submitted to the Texas Water Development Board on behalf of the Region D board.

Item 4 – The public was provided an opportunity to provide comments. Each person listed below appeared in their individual capacity unless otherwise noted.
